EXAMINATIONS

Acting Performance Examinations

Acting Performance Examinations provide an opportunity for candidates, either on their own (solo) or with a colleague (duologue), to display what they have learned in drama class, in a secure, encouraging and non-competitive atmosphere.

Please refer to the section 'How Irish Board Examiners Assess Candidates' on irishboard.ie for detailed guidelines on the criteria used by the Irish Board during the examinations. In general, however, our examiners will assess each candidate's ability to create a character in a dramatic context, and to convey the character and story of the selection in a convincing manner to an audience, using voice, movement, gesture and space. Pace variation and appropriate modulation should be used. Each candidate should choose a piece or pieces which are appropriate for his/her age. Simple costumes and props are permitted but will not be assessed or marked.

It is important in an acting performance examination for candidates to show that they can MOVE and GESTURE appropriately. A failure to do this may result in a significant reduction in marks awarded, so we advise teachers and candidates to choose pieces in which all of the skills of acting may be displayed.

You will find mime definitions in our Grade Theory Guide which you can download free of charge from www.irishboard.ie.

For unprepared improvisations, each candidate will be given a list of topics by the examiner in the examination room during the examination. The candidate(s) will be given approximately one minute to prepare the improvisation.

In the Acting Performance Examinations, 70% will be required for a pass. All candidates achieving 70% or over will receive a Certificate. Candidates who receive 85% or more will receive a certificate and an Irish Board of Speech and Drama Acting Medal.

Entry Forms are available from the Irish Board's office or may be downloaded from irishboard.ie

Examination fees are printed on a separate sheet enclosed with this syllabus and are also available on irishboard.ie

Grade Examinations

The Irish Board of Speech and Drama Grade Examinations syllabus encourages a process of progressive learning from a early age, with each grade signifying an increase in skill and achievement. All aspects of speech and drama performance and theory are covered in the syllabus and the examinations represent a rigorous assessment of technique and interpretive skills.

We expect candidates in the Grade examinations to display a higher level of achievement than those in the Communication Skills examinations, and that the pieces chosen for performance will represent some challenge to the candidates, while being appropriate for their age and examination level. You will find poetry suggestions on irishboard.ie. These may be used if required but are supplied principally to give teachers an indication of the type and relative complexity of poems suitable for each grade.

Informal interaction with the examiner is introduced from Preliminary Grade One, in order to encourage candidates to respond to questions and explain aspects of their selected piece. This is developed in Grade One with an informal talk and in Grade Two with a presentation based on an illustration of the performed poem.

Theory is also introduced in Grade Two. The objective of the theory requirements in the Grade syllabus is to facilitate the candidate's understanding of techniques and skills relevant to their verse, prose and drama selections, and how these techniques and skills affect performance. Candidates will therefore be asked mostly to explain theory with reference to or by using examples from the pieces they perform. Examiners will not necessarily ask candidates to discuss all items of theory set for each grade.

Please refer to the section 'How Irish Board Examiners Assess Candidates' on irishboard.ie for detailed guidelines on the criteria used by the Irish Board during the examinations.

You may book exams online through irishboard.ie, where you will also find fees details.

Public Speaking and Presentation Examinations

Public speaking and presentation relates to the communication of information or ideas to a group or audience in such a way as to maintain their interest. Speaking to a group, in the context of a job interview, a presentation on a topic or issue, a sales pitch, or a formal speech or debate is increasingly common. Through our syllabus, we wish to encourage candidates to feel comfortable and confident in these situations. The purpose of these examinations is to encourage clear, fluent and expressive speaking on a variety of topics and in a variety of imagined settings.

The standard of presentation and communication skills expected from students taking examinations in Public Speaking and Presentation Skills is considerably higher than that expected in Communication Skills examinations.

Presentations should be well-structured and should be delivered with a full range of communication and vocal skills.

We do NOT expect candidates to read or to have memorised their presentations. If notes or aides mémoire are used, they should be used in such a way as to not cause distraction from the speaker.

Please refer to the section 'How Irish Board Examiners Assess Candidates' on irishboard.ie for some detailed guidelines on the criteria used by the Irish Board during the examinations.
